

What Search Terms to Use?

Write the subject you'd like to find information about in the square. Then, select at least six words or phrases that relate to your subject and place one in each oval. For example, if the subject is breaker boys, place those words in the square. Six possible search words or phrases that relate to breaker boys are: breaker boys, Pennsylvania, child labor, industrialization, mining, and Louis Hine. Use the bullets at the bottom of the page to help you refine your search.

Which search engine do I want to use first?

How do I get to that search engine?

Do I need to use phrases in my search?

Do I need to use "+" or "-" in my search?

Which American Memory collections will I use?